Subject: Re: NCMNPS FOIA request

Dear Mr. Hasbrouck,

This is in reply to your follow-up FOIA request 20-54033 (ER0566), seeking access to archival records of the National Commission on Military, National, and Public Service (NCMNPS).

We completed processing the 647 records identified as Historically Significant Media (disposition item 5.1). These records do not have access restrictions, but a few may have copyright restrictions.

These records are very unlikely to contain the information you seek as outlined in your FOIA request. But as we explained previously, we are providing you access to all the records except the emails so you will be able to identify the records you seek instead of relying on just our evaluation.

We are in the process of making these records available in the National Archives Catalog (<https://catalog.archives.gov/>), but that still may take some weeks. Instead, attached are spreadsheets that lists the narrative title for each file, the file size (bytes), the path of the file as transferred to NARA, and a link to access the file.

Again, the metadata we received with the transfer of the files did not specify which workstation or server the file resided on when in use by the NCMNPS. The transferring official likely pulled the files from the original locations to create a new directory specifically for transferring them to NARA. The transferring official provided the files on a thumbdrive and all the archival files had a date modified of 9/18/2020 or 9/19/2020.

This is an interim response to your FOIA request in order to provide you access with additional sets of processed and reviewed NCMNPS records.

If you are not satisfied with our action on your request, you have the right to file an administrative appeal within ninety (90) calendar days from the date of this letter. Appeals must be in writing and may be delivered by regular U.S. mail or by email. By filing an appeal, you preserve your rights under the Freedom of Information Act and present the deciding agency with an opportunity to review your request and reconsider its decision. If you submit your appeal by regular mail, it should be addressed to the Deputy Archivist of the United States (ND), National Archives and Records Administration, 8601 Adelphi Road, Room 4200, College Park, Maryland 20740-6001. Both the letter and envelope should be clearly marked "FOIA Appeal." If you submit your appeal by email, please send it to foia@nara.gov, addressed to the Deputy Archivist, with the words "FOIA Appeal" in the subject line. Please be certain to explain why you believe this response does not meet the requirements of the Freedom of Information Act. All communications concerning this request should reference your FOIA tracking number 20-54033 (ER0566).

If you would like the opportunity to discuss our response and attempt to resolve your dispute without initiating the appeals process, you may contact our FOIA Public Liaison for assistance:
